Parenting Program　Infants and Toddlers: Part 1

How are you handling the defiant phase a.k.a. "terrible twos" phase?

I know that the terrible twos phase is part of child's growth, but I wonder how other parents are handling it?

Let's consider this from the perspective of the Parenting Program.

I discussed with a friend about children's terrible twos phase.

○ What do you think they discussed?

Perhaps this phase is, ○○ phase!

～ If you try to imagine the "no!" from a child's perspective… ? ～

Could this be a growth spurt phase for children?
