※How to calculate monthly income

$$\text{Monthly Income} = \frac{[\text{Total adjusted annual income amount of all housemates and the tenant in the household (A)}] - [\text{Total deductions from (B)}]}{12 \text{ months}}$$

However, this formula is not applicable if you have not had steady employment for a period of one year. In that case your monthly income will be examined differently. Please contact the reception desk for more information.

3. The Lottery

After the regular application period ends, a lottery will be held to determine the tenants and their position in line. (Once your application is accepted, we will inform you of the date and location of the lottery.) A separate lottery will be held for each housing complex specified on the application form.

Depending on the housing complex, some applicants may be able to receive special priority status such as for elderly households, child-rearing households, and single-female-parent households. The results determined by the lottery are valid until the month following the first month of the next application period. If you do not move in during the period of validity, you will forfeit your position and your application will be placed at the end of the priority list.

Additionally, there may be situations in which the priority list may be skipped in order to accommodate others who must move in on an emergency basis, such as households with persons who are disabled or evacuees of natural disasters. We appreciate your understanding.

4. Acknowledgement/Guarantor

1 Acknowledgement

If you are eligible to move in, the designated prefectural housing administrator will send you an information packet. Please submit the prefectural housing residency acknowledgement confirmation before the designated deadline. The acknowledgement confirmation requires a seal registration certificate from both the applicant and the guarantor as well as an income certificate from the guarantor.

2 Guarantor

The guarantor must fulfill each of the following 2 conditions:

1: In principle, a guarantor should be a relative that lives in the prefecture and a Japanese citizen.

2: The guarantor should be independent with respect to and have an income equal to or higher than that of the applicant.

- The maximum amount that a guarantor will guarantee is the 12-month rent for the same type of housing at the time the applicant moves into prefectural housing, plus 150,000 yen.
- Those who are unable to secure a joint guarantor despite considerable effort and who have signed a rent guarantee contract with a rent obligation guarantor approved by the governor are exempt from having a joint guarantor. For details, please inquire at reception.

5. Rent/Deposit

1 Rent

Please contact the reception desk for any inquiries about the rent. The rent takes into account the tenants' income as well as the scale, location, age, etc. of the housing complex. Furthermore, rent payments will need to be done using monetary transfers from financial institutions. Money will not be directly collected.

2 Deposit

When you move into prefectural housing, you will need to pay three months' rent immediately as a security deposit. When you vacate the home, this deposit will be refunded. However, if there is delinquent rent, that amount will be deducted from the deposit. Additionally, it may be used to cover the cost of repairs when vacating, as described below.

3 Income Declaration and Rent

After moving in, you will be required to submit a declaration of income every year. Rent for the following year will be set according to the income that is stated in your declaration. If you do not report your income, the rent will be equivalent to housing rent for similar housing in the vicinity. (Article 16, Paragraph 1 of the Public Housing Act)

In the case that you begin to earn excess income, you have lived for three or more consecutive years in the prefectural housing, and you have received notification that you have been recognized as a person whose income exceeds the upper limit of the income criteria for resident eligibility as determined by your income declaration, you will need to vacate the prefectural housing. (Article 28, Paragraph 1 of the Public Housing Act)

Additionally, submitting your Prefectural Housing Personal Number Notification Form (My Number Notification) together with your income declaration will allow you to omit some documents required for your income declaration for the next year and the subsequent years you will need to submit it.

4 Maintenance Fee

Prefectural housing has maintenance fees for common expenses listed below, including items shared with other residents. These maintenance fees are necessary to maintain the housing complex's living environment, so please make sure to pay them. (Toyama Prefectural Housing Ordinance Article 21) Maintenance fee amounts, payment methods, dates, and more vary depending on housing complexes, so please pay them according to the rules of your housing complex.

- Electricity fees (basic/usage fees for exterior lights, stairway lights, meeting room lights, television reception booster, and water supply facilities)
- Fees for electric appliance supplies (lightbulbs, fluorescent tubes, switch sockets, repairing and replacing fuses, etc.)
- Water fees (basic/usage fees for outdoor sprinklers, meeting rooms, and other water facilities)
- Wastewater facility maintenance fees (for cleaning and disinfecting outdoor and indoor sewage drains, gutters, etc.)
- Gas fees (gas usage fees for meeting rooms, repairing or replacing gas taps)
- Fees for maintaining shrubs, managing weeds, pest control, etc.
- Fees for snow removal on housing complex premises
- Other fees (for illegally dumped oversize garbage on housing complex property, removal costs for abandoned vehicles)

5 Repairs when Vacating

When vacating the home, tatami refacing and repairing the paper on sliding doors and screens will be done at the resident's expense. The costs for the removal of equipment installed by the resident as well as the costs incurred by repairs done due to abusive use of the unit or careless destruction of the facilities will also be borne by the resident. (Toyama Prefectural Housing Ordinance Article 20)

※As specified by prefectural ordinance, unlike at private-sector rental housing, residents will bear the cost of tatami mats, shoji screens, and sliding doors even for age-related wear-and-tear or deterioration.

※Repair costs will differ depending on the unit cost of repairs per year, room sizes, and the number of tatami mats/screens/sliding doors.

※Cleaning fees may be charged if a residence is not regularly cleaned (including taking out trash, sweeping, wiping, removing stains from dirty plumbing, window sashes, kitchen area).

6. Other Important Information

1 Pets

Caring for pets, including but not limited to dogs, cats, pigeons, etc. (including feeding wild animals) is forbidden in prefectural housing, as it will bother other residents. (Temporarily caring for pets is also forbidden.) Therefore, if there are complaints from neighbors regarding noises or odors coming from your residence, we may demand for you to vacate your residence after confirming the facts. Additionally, if the inside of a residence is heavily damaged from feces and/or urine, we may file a claim for compensation for these damages.

However, if you require a guide dog or service dog for those with physical disabilities, please make a request for one.

2 Weed/Snow Removal and Cleaning

We ask that all residents work together to remove snow, clean, and remove weeds (including maintaining shrubs less than 2 meters high) on prefectural housing premises.

3 Neighborhood Council

In order to create an orderly and livable housing complex and to ensure that residents can live comfortably, a community association or neighborhood council exists as a self-governing body for all residents. Residents should be aware that they are members of a community, and should cooperate with one another, rather than placing all responsibility on the board members.

4 Parking Lots

Each housing complex's neighborhood council decides on the allocation of parking spaces. If you would like to use the parking lot, please contact your housing complex's council members.

Additionally, only one parking space can be given per household. You cannot use other parking areas (such as visitor parking spaces).

※If you do not follow parking lot rules, you will be forbidden from using parking spaces.

5 Installing Outside Screen Doors

Residents must install and remove screen doors in each dwelling at their own expense. (However, this does not include Rengeji housing complex's buildings 2/3/4.) Please install your own screen doors if you need them.

6 Toilet Lids and Heated Toilet Seats

Apart from some residences, toilets in prefectural housing are not installed with lids. If you would like toilet lids or heated seats, please install them on your own.

7 Air Conditioning and Lighting Equipment

Prefectural housing does not have air conditioning or lighting equipment installed. Please install these units yourself if you need them.

8 Electricity, Gas, Water

Please contact and apply to each relevant company on your own to use electricity, gas, and water in your residence.

If you will be using a bathtub or a bath boiler in residences that do not have them installed (Higashi-Shinjo/Fujikoshi/Jogawara/part of Taikoyama), we ask that you rent them on your own.

9 Manners to be followed in communal housing

Please follow the bare minimum manners required in order to live in communal housing, as listed below.

- Follow all garbage disposal rules

You must follow all garbage disposal rules for the city and housing complex you live in (including the specific days to take out garbage and garbage sorting methods) and make every effort to preserve a good living environment for you and those around you.

- Do not make loud noises

While making normal amounts of noise during the day is permitted, we ask that you not use washing machines or vacuums early in the morning or late at night.

Additionally, we ask that you not bother other residents by making loud noises or playing audio louder than a necessary volume.

- Do not cause any bad smells

Not only is it unsanitary to accumulate garbage in your room, but it will also cause bad smells and attract bugs, which will bother other residents, so please do not stockpile your garbage inside your residence.

- Follow all parking lot usage rules

Parking on the sides of roads or in other parking spaces within the housing complex, such as visitor parking spaces, will prevent them from being used for their original purpose (such as for garbage trucks, ambulances, or fire trucks, as well as for visitors), so please do not park outside of designated parking areas.

- Follow all neighborhood council/community association rules

It takes the cooperation of every resident to create and maintain a friendly atmosphere in our housing complexes. We ask that you make every effort to cooperate and participate in your housing complex's neighborhood council activities.

- Cooperate with building repair work done by the prefecture

The prefecture conducts building construction or repair work (for exterior walls, waterproofing, water and sewage piping, and electrical trunk lines) in order to ensure a pleasant living environment for residents. This work may cause shaking, loud noises, or odors, and workers may have to enter residences, so we ask for your understanding and cooperation.

Additionally, to make sure construction finishes quickly and to efficiently deploy construction vehicles and other equipment, we may ask residents to temporarily move from parking spaces normally allotted to residents. Residents must comply with this in to allow for construction to finish.
